Stallions in the New Forest - Keep Your Distance

20 stallions have been released onto the Forest and will stay out until 18 June.

Please keep your distance from the ponies as they can be unpredictable. As always, drive with care and remember to stick to the speed limits on the forest roads.

Read more on the New Forest Higher Level Stewardship website.

To protect our environment and the wildlife that calls it home, we introduced two Public Space Protection Orders (PSPOs). These PSPOs ban the petting and feeding of ponies and donkeys and lighting of fires within the forest.

Read and follow the New Forest code on Forestry England's website.

Pressing the 'STOP' button

Like most people, we like to be busy. Between us we have an array of different people and things that need our attention on a daily basis, from businesses to children that are currently trying to navigate the stresses of GCSE exams.

We have to force ourselves to actually press the stop button and switch off..... not something we are very good at!

This weekend we took some time out to visit Hayley's Hut, a beautiful shepherd's hut situated near Bideford in North Devon. This little place provided a complete escape, with no neighbours or noise other than cows, the occasional tractor and the birds. We were still answering emails, doing client calls in the car and working generally right up to the moment we arrived. Given it was rather poorly timed, Darren's still been sat preparing this issue!| But what we did achieve was some time to stop, to regroup, to think and actually to just rest.

As people, we just keep going. The treadmill of life means that many cannot afford to stop, listen to their bodies and rest. It is, however, one of the most important things to make sure you prioritise. Take that break, however short it may be, give your body the time to rest and recuperate so you can come back stronger and ready to face the summer of events lined up!

New Forest District Council host community safety engagement and free bike registering sessions

New Forest District Council’s community safety team is hosting community engagement and free bike registering sessions across the district this year.

The sessions are taking place on:

- Wednesday 15 May, New Milton Market, 9am to 12pm
 - Saturday 25 May, Gang Warily, Fawley, 10am to 4pm*
 - Wednesday 29 May, Roundhill Car Park, Fordingbridge, 12pm to 3pm
 - Tuesday 4 June, Hythe Market, 9am to 12pm
 - Wednesday 26 June, Ringwood Gateway, 9am to 12pm
 - Thursday 4 July, St Thomas Street car park, Lymington, 9am to 12pm
 - Wednesday 10 July, Totton Precinct, 9am to 12pm
- Each year, New Forest District Council host community engagement sessions at towns and parishes across the district. The council is joined by local neighbourhood policing colleagues to engage with residents and visitors on topics such as crime and anti-social behaviour in the community.

At the sessions, the teams offer practical advice on crime prevention and discuss how the council and partners of Safer New Forest work as a collective to keep the New Forest a low crime area. Residents are also invited to bring their bikes to the sessions where they will be marked with a unique reference number, which is added to the official national bike register database. Registering a bike on the database usually costs £19.99, but it will be free at one of these sessions.

By offering free bike registering, New Forest District Council aims to reduce cycle thefts across the district and enable owners to be reunited with their bikes if they are lost, stolen and recovered. Cllr Dan Poole, portfolio holder for Community, Safety, and Wellbeing at New Forest District Council, says: “It’s great to see our community engagement events return this year. The events provide an excellent opportunity for our residents to speak with our community safety team, and local policing colleagues, about crime and anti-social behaviour in the district, and register their bike for free.”

In 2023, New Forest District Council hosted 12 engagement events across the district and marked a total of 213 bikes for free. With the additional sessions this year, residents can benefit from this at no cost to them.

Residents can find more bike safety advice, as well as further community safety information, on the Safer New Forest website: <https://www.safer.newforest.gov.uk/article/3024/What-should-you-do-to-protect-your-bike-from-theft>

Ringwood U14 Girls - League Champions

Ringwood Panthers secured their Hampshire Youth U14 Division 3 title with a 3-1 win at their last home game for the season against Stoneham.

The girls got off to a great start with a goal after four minutes of play, but Stoneham came back with a penalty at 8 minutes. They went in at half time 2-1 up, and securing the title with a 3rd goal just before the final whistle.

Coached by Lee Mansi and Simon Spearing, the Panthers who are only in their second season together, were promoted in their first season together and then winning the title this season.

Michael Butcher, Head of Development at Ringwood Football Club said "Congratulations to our U14 Panthers who have become Division 3 champions with a 3-1 win over Stoneham! Great game and advert for the club and girls football!"

The girls will collect their league trophy at a presentation on 15 June at St Mary's Stadium, Southampton.

Wonderful concert by the Hampshire Constabulary Band at the Parish Church

On St George's Day, the Church of St Peter and St Paul hosted the Band of the Hampshire and Isle of Wight Constabulary. Under the direction of the witty and entertaining Directors of Music, Greg Walker and Si Tripp, the band played a mixture of traditional British and more modern mixed numbers. Roger Huth was a guest bagpipe player on some songs, adding a Scottish accent. In attendance was a Deputy Lieutenant of Hampshire, Ms Lena Samuels JP, the Mayor of Ringwood, Gareth DeBoos and his consort, Mary.

It was an extremely entertaining evening with very talented volunteer musicians showing their skill and it was thoroughly enjoyed by all in attendance.

The band hadn't been to Ringwood since before COVID, but we truly hope they will be back soon.

WHAT IS A DELTIOLOGY?

Paul Miles is a collector of Postcards, a Deltiologist. Through his collection, the Ringwood Antiques Club were given a History of Bournemouth from paleolithic times to the mid 20th century,

In 1800, the area was still mainly heathland, some farming & forestry, plus a wool trade & smuggling. By 1802 Lewis Tregonwell, a veteran of the Napoleonic Wars, built villas for himself, his staff & friends. The area became a smart Health Resort.

The Railway arrived in 1862, day trippers visited & Bournemouth started to grow. Through the postcards we could picture the early development & relate it to the town as it is today.

On May 20th we are having our end of season Dinner followed by a talk by Joyce Meader, a hand knitter of historical clothing, including items for films. Non members are very welcome at 8.15pm for the talk. Our new season starts in September 2024 & we hope for new members to join us.

Growing up healthy in the digital media world

International child development expert Dr Michaela Glöckler is coming to Ringwood Waldorf School before heading to London in the next step of her current global speaking tour. The free to attend event is at 7pm on Thursday 16th May and open to all. Dr Glöckler will be speaking on the topic of 'Growing up healthy in the digital media world.'

She says: "As problematic media usage behaviour has now reached epidemic proportions; it is important to remember the basic conditions for healthy development in childhood and adolescence. It is a paradox of our digital future: we cannot withhold digital media from our children and adolescents, but we also cannot leave them alone with the influences and changes that digital media brings about."

The Guardian recently reported on a first-of-its kind study published by the Journal of the American Medical Association (Jama) Paediatrics that showed that the average toddler is missing out on hearing more than 1,000 words spoken by an adult each day due to screen time, setting back their language skills. And as recently reported, from earlier this year, the Dutch have followed the French in banning devices such as mobile phones and tablets in classrooms unless needed for medical reasons, or by students with disabilities. The ban aims to limit distractions during the school day.

Dr Glöckler adds: "Children's brains develop over the first fifteen to sixteen years of their lives, and the outcomes - especially self-control and individual thinking - are essential for media savviness. But the early introduction of electronic devices can affect brain development, potentially reducing children's long-term ability to thrive in our digital world. This talk will describe the critical stages of development while highlighting what kinds of media and devices might be appropriate at different ages."

Geli Patrick, School Lead and Chair of the Senior Management Team at Ringwood Waldorf School, said: "We are delighted to host Dr Glöckler at our school and are throwing open the doors to any parents, guardians, grandparents and carers to attend this important talk as we navigate the role technology plays in our children's daily lives.

"We are looking forward to hearing from Dr Glöckler who will be sharing her thoughts and tips on making this task more achievable for everyone involved. Personally, I have heard her speak several times. She is inspirational and I always take something from her sessions. We welcome anyone who would like to know more or is becoming increasingly concerned about how their child is developing and responding to digital stimuli."

Dr Michaela Glöckler was born in 1946 in Stuttgart/Germany. She attended a Waldorf School until graduation, followed by studies of German Literature and History in Freiburg and Heidelberg, and from 1972 till 1978, before studying Medicine in Tübingen and Marburg. She completed further training as a Paediatrician at the Community Hospital in Herdecke and the Bochum University Hospital. For the next 10 years, she was a Paediatrician at the Community Hospital in Herdecke and Medical Adviser at the Rudolf Steiner School in Witten/Ruhr. From 1988 until 2016, she was the Head of the Medical Section at the Goetheanum, School of Spiritual Science, Dornach, Switzerland. She remains active as an international lecturer and trainer for Anthroposophical Medicine and is the Co-founder of the Alliance for Childhood and the European Alliance of Initiatives for applied Anthroposophy/ELIANT.

There will be a voluntary collection on the door with donations going towards a charity Michaela is supporting.

Guide to Safe Online Shopping

While the convenience of online shopping is undeniable, approaching it with caution is equally important. Here's a guide to help you make secure purchases on the internet.

Shop Strategically: Choose reputable brands you know and trust. If venturing into unfamiliar territory, conduct thorough research. (Trustpilot is a good site for this). Remember, deals that seem too good to be true often are. Look for the "https://" and padlock symbol, signifying a secure connection. Never use public Wi-Fi when shopping.

Use a Credit Card: These offer better fraud protection than debit cards and allow for refunds if things go wrong. Consider a dedicated card with a low limit for additional security. Be mindful of what information you share, providing only what's necessary for the transaction.

Use Strong Passwords: Ditch easily guessable options like birthdays or pet names. Create unique, complex passwords for each online account. Ask Tutors 4 Computers how to do this and remember them easily!

Don't Panic with 2FA: Two-factor authentication adds a strong extra layer of security. It just means receiving a text with a code and typing that into your computer.

Beware of Phishing: Unsolicited emails or texts, even from seemingly familiar sources, can be phishing (fraud) attempts.

Use the Address Bar: Always type the website address into the bar at the top of Google Chrome (etc), instead of going via links in emails etc. This ensures you are seeing the genuine page.

Empower Yourself: Before buying, familiarise yourself with return policy, including deadlines, accepted reasons, and any restocking fees. Keep order confirmations and receipts readily available; they're your proof of purchase if anything goes wrong. Remember then, a little awareness goes a long way. Follow these guidelines and transform online shopping from a hesitant step into a confident stride. Happy shopping!

CATRIN FINCH, Harp and AOIFE NI BHRIAIN Violin

For the final concert in our 39th season, we have a return visit by one of Britain's leading harpists, Catrin Finch, on Friday 17th May 2024 at the Trinity Centre, Ringwood at 7.30pm.

Catrin is considered one of the most gifted classical harpists of her generation. She was the Official Harpist to the Prince of Wales from 2000-2004 and is a visiting professor at the Royal Welsh College of Music & Drama and the Royal Academy of Music. She has been awarded several academic awards, including an honorary fellowship from the University of Wales in 2006.

In 2021, Catrin performed with classically-trained Irish folk violinist, Aoife Ni Bhriain at the Other Voices online festival, playing a duet of Johann Sebastian Bach's Partita No.3. This led to a collaboration between them that produced the 2023 album, Double You, a mixture of adaptations of pieces from Ireland, Brittany and Wales. Their concert for us promises to be an eclectic mix of classical pieces and folk tunes, along with their own compositions.

Tickets cost £18 for an adult, under 25s free.

Website: www.avonvalleyconcerts.com for further information.or call Bob Maddock on 01202 487402.

Box offices: Greyfriars Community Centre, Ringwood, Grants Estate Agents, The Furlong, Ringwood, Fordingbridge Bookshop, online and on the door.

Calling all Insect Inspectors – want to win a bug hunting kit?

During the May half term break there are 2 opportunities to search out bugs. Not only can families spend an hour or two searching and identifying mini beasts, but they also have the chance to create their own art and to win an i-spy book and magnifier to use at home or on their travels.

The Big Bug Hunts organised by Ringwood Actions for Climate Emergency (RACE) are taking place at Poulner Lakes on Thursday 30th May from 1pm to 3m and at Jack Wright Field (near Hightown Lake) on Friday 31st May.

Bob Taylor, one of the RACE volunteers explained "We do regular surveys of the butterflies in these locations, and we hope that the Big Bug Hunts will help us to understand what other insects are inhabiting the area. Everyone is welcome to join in our search. We are also delighted that RACE will have support from the New Forest Parks Authority to help with identification. We'd love all ages to get involved."

Tickets (1 per family) are available) on Eventbrite or by emailing ringwoodraceagainststtime@gmail.com

Ringwood RACE against time ltd is a registered charity – charity number 1189272, more information can be found at www.raceagainsttime.org.uk.

DETERMANN
Frederick Francis
4th October 1948 - 27th April 2024

Freddie... Mr D, Pa, Gramps. Born in Amsterdam and named after the composer, Chopin, Freddie was a lifelong lover of music and cake. An accomplished photographer and guitarist, music permeated every stage of his life - including his peaceful passing with his family by his side.

Easily recognised walking in Ringwood by his cap, 'man-bag' and sense of humour, he was quite the local character and a true original. Always his own man.

A private funeral took place at Poole & Wimborne Woodland Burial Ground. The family would like to invite anyone with memories of Freddie to spend a moment thinking of him and to mark his passing by playing a favourite piece of music or enjoying a slice of cake in his honour!

Any donations would be welcomed by the National Autistic Society. Please contact Eden Funeral Directors for details.
